

Nursery School Is Open

The Sunbeam Nursery School has opened in Fairmont at 1106 Alexander Place under the direction of Helen Brown.

Operating from a large playroom in her house, Mrs. Brown has scheduled three sessions for three- and four-year olds. Although each session is limited to 10 children, she added that spaces are still available in each session.

Mrs. Brown has a bachelor of science degree from Salem College and has taken several child development courses at Fairmont State College. She is also a childbirth education instructor and a La Leche League leader.

The sessions include free creative play, work on developmental skills, field trips and talks from community workers, she explained.

For more information on the school, interested persons may call Mrs. Brown at 366-8590.
